

The logo for re:SearchTX, featuring the text "re:SearchTX" in a blue and red font with a trademark symbol.

Announcement

Good day re:SearchTX User Community,

We have recently been made aware of potentially malicious emails that resemble re:SearchTX Case Alerts, including the use of the re:SearchTX logo and branding. These emails are fraudulent and are not being delivered from the re:SearchTX system.

Important: Legitimate re:SearchTX Case Alerts will always originate from noreply@research.txcourts.gov. If there is any question as to the legitimacy of the alert received, users are encouraged to login directly to <https://research.txcourts.gov> instead of clicking on a link in the email itself.

re:SearchTX users are encouraged to reference internet training protocols administered by your organization to enhance our collective vigilance against these types of potentially malicious emails including not opening attachments or clicking on links from unknown entities.

We appreciate your partnership in promoting a safe environment for all re:SearchTX and eFileTexas users.

The logo for re:SearchTX, featuring the text "re:SearchTX" in a blue and red font with a trademark symbol.